

FAMILY

We're here to help unite business families across generations, across boardrooms, and across Canada.

When members of a business family are united and share a common vision they are unstoppable in their journey toward success.

We believe this so strongly that we created a new national organization dedicated to making this happen: the Family Enterprise Xchange. Our goal is to strengthen and empower family enterprises by helping them address challenges, take advantage of opportunities, and move forward with a renewed focus for the future.

We offer business families and their advisors a safe and sponsor-free community of like-minded people. A community that supports and encourages the sharing of each individual's unique wisdom and experience.

One which offers access to the world's best thinking on family enterprise.

FEX exists to empower enterprising families and their advisors so they can succeed and flourish. If you are a member of a family enterprise, an advisor, or consider yourself part of this community, we invite you to join us and help transform family enterprise across Canada.
